The means by which the altered states were entered (dancing, drumming, drugs, etc.) were technologies, typically demonstrating not only discipline but self-regulation as well. Message Co., The. VHS. Shroud. Color. 160 mins. Broadcast, Home. G. (Italian). Video Released Aug. 2005. This documentary takes a balanced view as it weaves its way through the labyrinth of similarities between the Gospel accounts and the iconography of Jesus Christ. There is documentary evidence that the Shroud, venerated in France as early as 1350, is the Shroud we see today preserved in Turin. The documentary takes the historical high ground as it presents the places, the written evidence, the changes of ownership, the various expositions and the first 1898 photograph that changed everything ? bringing the Holy Shroud into the realm of modern science and to worldwide attention for the very first time. The documentary reports on the first examinations of the fabric and the imprint left on it by the body of a dead man who had been tortured and crucified. It describes the discovery of red blood cells and pollen traces, carbon-14 dating, and computerized image processing. The Man of Pain: The Holy Shroud was the Official Documentary of the 1998 Holy Shroud Exposition Committee and was granted the right to use the Vatican's Jubilee 2000 logo. It is the only documentary to present High Definition footage of the private exposition which took place on June 25, 1997 ? the only film to be shot since the fire that badly damaged Guarini's Chapel.This film was made with the assistance of Archdiocesan's experts, and includes footage shot in Jerusalem, the church of St. Catherine of Sinai, Edessa, Istanbul, Lirey, St. Hyppolyte, and Chambery. Sign with Me: ASL, Vol. 1. Sign Language. 75 mins. (Sign with Me Ser.: Vol. 1). Video Released Jan. 2004. Mary Pat Moeller, Brenda Schick. Sign with Me is a three-volume video and workbook series that enables families to learn how to sign and communicate with deaf infants or toddlers. innovative in its approach, the video format allows individuals an opportunity to learn at their own pace and convenience. In Volume 1, Building Conversations teaches how to sign short, simple, and expressive sentences for daily interaction. Lessons supporting critical techniques illustrated on the video, including how to respond to a child's gestures, encourage longer communication interactions, and use facial expressions, are reinforced in the accompanying workbook. Volume 2, Building Concepts is designed to improve both signing and parenting skills. Emphasis is placed on stimulating a deaf child's language acquisition, including how to use signs to describe feelings, experiences, and objects. The video introduces eight techniques to help parents teach and reinforce concepts such as wet and dry. The workbook includes self-tests and practice activities to aid the learning process. Building on the lessons introduced in volumes 1 and 2, the third volume, Positive Parenting, focuses on the basic signs and ideas for praising a child and managing his or her behaviors. Eight parenting principles or tools are described, including how to encourage a child to make choices and how to use routines to prevent problems. Simple Concepts in Estate Planning: Successful Strategies for Distribution-Oriented Planning. Color. 120 mins. mins. Video Released Apr. 2004. Instructed by Robert E. Hales. Sometimes the most important lessons are learned by going back to the basics. Now, business planning expert Robert E. Hales revisits the essential elements of estate planning - but offers a significant new twist: He shows how slightly tweaking standard estate planning strategies can lead to more optimal effectiveness. With his appealing mix of humor and professional insight, Hale clearly underscores the need for integrating both the 'bean counter" and "visionary" approach into the estate planning process.Hale's 90-minute workshop outlines the fundamentals of distribution-oriented estate planning in clear, acronym-free English, and furnishes fresh new approaches to common concepts, including: ?Tax reduction vs. distribution - the goal of an estate plan?Benefits of Q-Tip trusts?Advantages of generation-skipping trusts?Use and shortcomings of buy-sell agreements?Using life insurance to pay estate taxes, second-to-die polices, and more.Plus, many estate planners focus on minimizing - or eliminating taxes - as the primary goal of estate planning. Hale feels ?distribution? should be the primary focus of an estate plan. After all, he argues, if estate assets do not go to whom they are supposed to, an estate plan is a failed document - regardless of how much tax savings it may generate. Even experienced practitioners will discover new ways to increase your estate planning acumen - with this entertaining new presentation from an industry veteran. Marketplace Bks., Inc. Created by Fred Nishperly. Featuring Fred Nishperly. Hosted by Fred Nishperly. Instructed by Fred Nishperly. Produced by Fred Nishperly. Executive Producer Fred Nishperly. Soap is probably one of the most significant inventions or substances ever created by man. The earliest known occurrences of soap date back at least three thousand years! Once a substance reserved for royalty and the elite, soap has become one of the most common everyday commodities in the average household. And likely more than any other product, soap has been most directly responsible for greater health and hygiene and has contributed to longer life expectancy while minimizing the spread of disease. What's even better is that natural, home-made glycerin soaps smell and feel wonderful and do not have the harshness of store bought commercially produced soaps. In this video, Jeny will take the viewer through the fun and more interesting aspects of melt and pour glycerin soap crafting and then demonstrate the process of making cold-process soap from commonly available, inexpensive ingredients for your personal use. Jeny will also show you her techniques to customize these high-quality soaps for gift giving and will also explore the commercial possibilities of producing soap as a for profit business.Jeny is the talented entrepreneur behind Jeny Rose Creations and Countryside Natural Soaps. Her soaps and related bath products have been sold in numerous retail outlets including the Made in Oregon stores, casinos, gift shops and mail-order.The DVD runtime is approximately 1 hour, 43 minutes with topics broken down into chapters for easy step by step, follow along instructions showing how to make, decorate, finish and market both melt and pour and cold-process soaps for fun or profit. Solomon¿s Temple. Color. 26 mins. mins. Video Released Oct. 2004. Solomon recounts one of his greatest achievements to his son an heir apparent to the throne, Rehoboam, the building to the Temple at Jerusalem. The place where it was built in ancient times was considered the center of the world. In many ways it has continued to be a center of history. Today it continues as a center of great reverence as well as great conflict. An understanding of the Temple in Jewish life and history is essential not only to understanding the Bible but also history and current events in Jerusalem today. This program gives a basic introduction to the colossal achievement of Solomon?s Temple and details its design, construction, meaning for Israel, and what went on there and why. Solomon?s Temple was destroyed in 586 B.C., but through the use of modern computer graphics, the Temple is reconstructed visually to provide a contemporary experience of its ritual, beauty and grandeur.————?Because of his desire to make his people known, God blessed the kingdom of Solomon above all others throughout the history of the world. At the center of Solomon's kingdom was the temple, which symbolized God's presence among His people and his unique blessing through the nation of Israel. The video Solomon's Temple captures the beauty and grandeur of the temple in a uniquely computer-generated format. It will help to understand the history of Israel as well as shed light on current events in Jerusalem today.? - Josh McDowell. Vision Video. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-56364-853-3(9)) $14.99.

But these courageous women had something special going for them: the great music of Beethoven, Schubert and Chopin. Even as disease and malnutrition thinned their ranks, these Australian, Dutch and British women - missionaries teachers, nuns, wives and children - used their unique choir to sustain a spirit that refused to accept defeat. Here is their remarkable story, told by the survivors themselves, aided by rare archival footage. The Peninsula Women's Chorus of Palo Alto, California, once again sings the rapturous music that made life endurable in a remote prison camp in Sumatra. Janson Media

St. Patrick: The Apostle of Ireland. Color and B&W. 46 mins. Video Released Nov. 2004. Author Janson Media. Who was Saint Patrick? This new documentary film delves beneath the myth of Ireland?s patron saint to reveal that the patron saint of Ireland was an ordinary man who accomplished the extraordinary by placing his faith in God. Precious few historical facts are known of this man who walked through pre-Christian 5th century Ireland. Two documents written by Patrick, the Confession and his Letter to Coroticus, an Irish warlord, are all that remain. Yet these brief writings captured his emotional state, his innermost feelings and aspirations.Exquisitely filmed on location in Ireland, and using dramatic wide-screen black and white re-creations, SAINT PATRICK: APOSTLE OF IRELAND, visually traces the great saint?s footsteps. Patrick?s actual confessions are read in voice-over, and evocative music further carries viewers back in time to re-live the experience of walking side by side with Patrick. From his birth to his death, viewers are able to witness Patrick?s physical struggles and to participate fully in his transformation and spiritual mission.St. Patrick was born in Roman Britain during the last days of the Roman Empire, at a time when order and authority had fallen into disarray and Britain?s west coast lay vulnerable to frequent plundering raids by the pagan Irish. At 14 years of age, Patrick was taken captive by pirates and sold into slavery in Ireland. He spent the next six years enslaved and immersed in the pre-Christian Druid culture of the Celtic people ? the same people he one day returned to convert. When he returned as a bishop to lead the Irish faithful, he chose instead to bring Christianity to those Irish not yet converted, and he did so without bloodshed, over a span of four decades. Considering the fact that the Irish to whom he sought to bring the gospel were a barbaric, warlike people who still practiced slave trading and human sacrifice, Patrick was without doubt a man of great strength of character, physical toughness, and bravery. As a result of his life and work, there emerged a uniquely Celtic form of Christianity, a religion firmly Christian in belief yet not far removed from the ancient traditions of the Irish people. As author Thomas Cahill writes, this new form of Irish Christianity exhibits a sense of the natural world "as a healing mystery, fraught with divine messages. The early Irish Christianity planted in Ireland by Patrick is? joyful and celebratory in the way it approaches the natural world. It is really not a theology of sin but of the goodness of creation, and it really is intensely incarnational."Structured in three parts to correspond to three phases of St. Patrick?s life, SAINT PATRICK: APOSTLE OF IRELAND, a production of Insight Film & Video Productions of Canada, was directed by David Tennant. In addition to Patrick?s own words, the film features on-camera interviews with two noted experts on Irish history, Father Frank Fahey of Ballintubber Abbey, and Michael Slavin, author of The Book of Tara. The film stars Nicholas McCarthy as Saint Patrick. Janson Media. DVD. (ISBN: 978-1-56839-252-3(4)) $24.95.
